B. Strategic Priority Updates
The Board was presented with updates on the strategic priorities the Board identified for the 2018-2019 school year.

1. Performing and Visual Arts
Dr. Joe Clark, Director of Performing and Visual Arts, presented the Board with an update on Performing and Visual Arts (PVA).

Elementary PVA Curriculum - This past summer a team of fourteen elementary art and music teachers spent over 700 hours completely rewriting curricula for Spring ISD Elementary PVA courses. Elementary art and music scopes and sequences were rebuilt to align with the most recent revision of the TEKS, infuse technology into lessons, and create direct ties to Arts Integration. The teams of teachers, led by David Landgrebe, Assistant Director of Performing and Visual Arts, and Amanda Byers, Visual Arts Coordinator, met the goal of completing the work by July 15, 2018, which provided time for district-wide staff feedback and additional revisions. PVA teachers received training focused on these new instructional resources and all of the new resources are available on Eduphoria.

Arts Integration Instructional Strategies - As of August 15, 2018, a total of thirty-nine elementary art and music teachers have participated in Arts Integration professional learning provided through our strengthened partnership with the Alley Theatre. The Alley Theatre also created arts integrated strategy cards for teachers and the District’s PVA leadership team, led by Dr. Joe Clark, has observed teachers implementing these strategies at every elementary school they have visited this year. Additionally, the PVA leadership team is working with Quaver Music, an industry leader in aligned music curricula, to customize the software to both track curriculum implementation and provide data on how our elementary music teachers are accessing resources and monitoring student progress.

Houston Symphony Partnership - The Performing and Visual Arts department is excited about an expanded partnership with the Houston Symphony during the 2018-2019 school year. Spring High School was once again selected as a resident campus partner this school year, the only school in the Houston area to earn this distinction for three consecutive years. Additionally, every 5th grade student in Spring ISD will attend a free one-hour performance of the Houston Symphony at the Cynthia Woods Mitchell Pavilion on Wednesday, October 10, 2018. The performance will be educational, focused on cycles and patterns found in both math and musical forms.

Resource Improvement - As of August 29, 2018, 69% of the funding allocated for 2018-19 resource improvements has been encumbered or spent. The Performing and Visual Arts leadership team began placing the needed orders in early July and orders are arriving weekly. Each received order brings us closer to our goal of presenting innovative district-wide collaborative performances during the 2018-2019 school year. The PVA office will complete the ordering process for the remaining resource improvements as soon as secondary schedule changes are completed and courses are balanced. Many of our collaborative partners, private music staff members, and most importantly, parents and students, have verbalized their appreciation for helping close gaps with needed resources for our PVA scholars.

2. Gifted and Talented
Tiffany Williams, Manager of Advanced Academics, presented the Board with an update on Advance Academics.

Expanded Gifted and Talented (G/T) Identification – A G/T Talent Pool has been identified for the Fall 2018 G/T Screening and Identification window utilizing the End of Year (EOY) 2018 MAP/Renaissance assessment. Students who scored in the 75th-94th percentile on the EOY MAP/Renaissance assessment will be screened using the Cognitive Abilities (CogAT) Form. This talent pool has identified a total of 608 elementary and 53 middle school students. The assessment window will take place October 1-12, 2018.

Renzulli Learning Implementation - As of August 9, 2018, 25 elementary campuses and all middle school campuses participated in the Renzulli Learning training. A follow-up session was held on August 30, 2018 for all G/T Coordinators. Through a collaboration with Spring ISD and Renzulli Learning Technology Departments, teacher uploads (K-6) and student uploads (K-5) are complete. The next milestone is the student upload for 6th grade.

Pre-Advanced Placement (Pre-AP) Professional Development and Automatic Enrollment - A total of 67 Pre-AP teachers attended the Pre-AP Instructional Strategy: Cornell Notes session in August (63%). Although all Pre-AP teachers did not attend, every middle school had at least one representative to participate. Beginning the week of September 10, we will conduct collaboration and instructional walks to monitor the implementation of Cornell Notes.

As of August 29, 2018, 84% of 6th grade G/T students are enrolled in all four Pre-AP core content courses; 87% of 7th grade G/T students are enrolled in all four Pre-AP core content courses; and 70% of 8th grade G/T students are enrolled in all four Pre-AP core content courses.

Advanced Placement (AP) Common Syllabi and Professional Development - A total of 45 AP teachers attended the AP Job Alike session in September (84%). Moving forward, there will be additional sessions to capture teachers who teach multiple courses.

As of August 28, 2018, six out of the seven additional AP Common Syllabi have been approved by College Board. The remaining Common Syllabus is AP Physics. College Board has provided feedback and the revisions are being taken into consideration. The deadline for syllabus approvals through College Board is January 31, 2019.

Odyssey of the Mind - On Saturday, August 25, 2018 representatives from 25 schools (19 elementary, 6 middle) attended an Odyssey of the Mind Planning Session with the Houston Area Region Odyssey (HARO) Director. This session was customized to support our District’s implementation of Odyssey of the Mind.
3. Workforce Development
Pam Farinas, Executive Director of Workforce Development presented the Board with an update on Workforce Development.

Workforce Development Team Training - During the week of July 30-August 2, the newly formed Workforce Development Team received training from national and local presenters designed to enhance their skills through the use of a coaching model specifically designed to help teachers “get better faster.” The model is based on coaching support provided to teachers at intervals of 30, 60, 90 and 120 days.

Workforce Development Team Model and Rigor Readiness Protocol for All Administrators - On July 30, the Assistant Superintendent of Workforce Development conducted an informational session on the 2018-2019 Workforce Development Team Model that provided campus administrators with detailed specifics regarding the work of each group within the team. Principals also participated in a second session that gave them an opportunity to use the rigor readiness protocol in a lesson planning exercise.

SpringWay Routines and Procedures Training for New Teachers - During the week of July 30-August 2, members of the Workforce Development Team provided training to new teachers on classroom management and instructional delivery strategies derived from Doug Lemov’s Teach Like a Champion. The extension of those strategies were consolidated last school year and were continued this year into what our District refers to as the SpringWay Routines and Procedures. New teachers leave this training knowing what to do with their students for the first days of school.

Rigor Relevance Training for All Schools - Between August 7-13, teachers on every campus received a two-day training on the Rigor Relevance Framework from a team of consultants from ICLE. This face-to-face training will be followed up with onsite coaching visits throughout the school year.

Get Better Faster Training for All Principals - From August 28-30, campus principals, associate principals, assistant principals and instructional specialists as well as a variety of central office leaders received training from the Workforce Development Team (Assistant Superintendent and Professional Development Facilitator) and School Leadership Office (Officer and Assistant Superintendents) on the coaching model used by the coaches and development specialists in order to bring alignment to the coaching practices used with teachers this year. Based on the Get Better Faster Coaching Model, the participants received training on the SpringWay Model. This three-day professional development module will be offered throughout the school year until all current school administrators are trained.

Workforce Development Team Ongoing Professional Learning - Beginning on Friday, August 10, and continuing on every Friday except the second week and the district-wide professional development days, the Workforce Development Team (WFD Team) engages in professional learning sessions. During these sessions, team members share best practices and exemplars they experienced throughout the week. They also preview the instructional objectives for the upcoming week and prepare to provide support to the teachers they are assigned to coach with lesson planning, classroom management and instructional delivery. The coaches, development specialists and professional development facilitators sharpen their skills with one another.

4. Special Education
Peg Sherwood, Executive Director of Special Education, presented the Board with an update on Special Education.

Special Education Folder Audit - As of August 24th, all campuses have had their Special Education student folders audited and summarized. Special Education and the corresponding Assistant Superintendent, along with the Schools Officer, continue to meet with secondary schools to review the corrections that need to be made and the timelines for task completion. Special Education IEP specialists are assisting schools as they begin the process to re-ARD to address targeted areas. Special Education and Assistant Superintendents will continue to monitor campus completion of ARDs to ensure that they meet deadlines.

Special Education Institute for Administrators - A total of 112 administrators were trained this summer (91%). The administrators are starting to lead the ARD/IEP committee meetings.

A series of videos are being completed to assist campus administrators with the more challenging parts of the ARD/IEP process and to provide the complete training to individuals who were not able to participate in the training over the summer. Ten support trainings have been scheduled for campus administrators throughout the school year. Special Education Coordinators and IEP Specialists are also available to assist upon request.

ARD meetings will be observed by Special Education Coordinators and IEP Specialists starting on August 27th. The Special Education Coordinators and IEP Specialists will use the Quality Indicators for ARD/IEP meetings to summarize their observations.

Special Education Institute for Teachers - A total of 307 teachers participated in the summer institute (89%). Teachers are beginning to complete documentation of the ARD proceedings with assistance from Special Education Coordinators and IEP Specialists. When the documentation is completed and submitted to the student’s state audit file, IEP Specialists will use the ARD/IEP documentation quality indicators to review documentation. This will provide data on not only the ARD/IEP committee documentation, but also looks closely at the development of the PLAAPP, goals and objectives contained in the student’s IEP, and the development of Intensive Programs of Instruction (IPI) developed for students who did not meet standards on one or more area of the STAAR tests.

Special Education CASE Teacher Institute - CASE Program Facilitators are working with new teachers to ensure that their school year is off to a good start. The majority of CASE positions are filled, and classes are expanding. CASE Connection meetings have been scheduled to ensure that the Unique curriculum is implemented with fidelity for our scholars with low incidence disabilities. Finally, a model CASE classroom has been set up at De Kaney High School.
The classroom will not only exemplify the room arrangement, but it will also illustrate the use of the Unique curriculum as well as the expected instructional practices.
