2. Gifted and Talented
Tiffany Wilcox, Director of Advanced Academics, presented the Board with the following update of the Gifted and Talented program:

Advanced Academics Project Charter Updates - The scope of the Advanced Academics Project Charter is to ensure all gifted and talented (G/T) students in grades K-12 are provided the state required G/T services through differentiation based on their unique learning styles, interests, and areas of giftedness. The project addresses: improved G/T services for scholars; expanded role of the campus G/T Coordinator; increase in the number of enrichment opportunities; increase in the number of middle school G/T scholars participating in Pre-AP courses; increase in the number of Advanced Placement Common Syllabi across high schools; increase in the number of scholars scoring at the Masters Performance Level on the state assessment; and improved compliance areas. The Advanced Academics Project Charter Team is comprised of a diverse group of educational leaders with experience and expertise that allows collaboration across departments to meet the objectives of the Project Charter. As of November 29, 2018, the team has met four times and is on target to creating the deliverables for this project charter.

One of the student achievement goals of the Advanced Academics Project Charter is to increase the number of gifted and talented scholars scoring at the Masters Level on the state assessment. Based on the Checkpoint 2 data, middle school science (53%) and middle school social studies (53.9%) met the Key Performance Indicator target of at least 50% of G/T scholars scoring at the Masters Level on the checkpoint.

Renzulli Learning Implementation - Teachers are utilizing the tool to assign activities and weekly assignments. In addition, students completed independent study projects using Renzulli as a part of the G/T Expo last week. As of November 28, 2018, 59% of elementary G/T students and 54% of sixth grade G/T students have completed at least one weekly assignment. In response to this data, the Advanced Academics Team participated in a webinar with the developers of the Renzulli Learning tool to provide feedback on how to enhance the assigning of resources, activities, and projects. Based on the information we received from the webinar, a mini lesson was presented at the November G/T Coordinator meeting. Teachers will receive additional support with Renzulli Learning navigation and implementation on January 7, 2019.

Odyssey of the Mind (OotM) - Odyssey of the Mind is an international cross-curricular educational program that provides creative problem solving opportunities for students K-12. In teams of seven, students choose one of five competitive problems to solve and work to create an authentic product and presentation. Under the guidance of an Odyssey of the Mind Coach, teams work on their solution within a defined budget and a strict set of criteria. We are excited to announce in our Implementation Year of Odyssey of the Mind, we currently have a total of 20 schools (Anderson, Booker, Burchett, Clark Primary, Cooper, Eickenroth, Heritage, Lewis, Link, Major, McNabb, Meyer, Northgate, Ponderosa, Salyers, Smith, Thompson, Winship, Bammel Middle School, and Dueltt Middle School) with committed teams for the Odyssey of the Mind Regional Competition. We are above our target number of ten teams and we look forward to the competition in March.

Advanced Academics Collaboration and Instructional Walks - During the month of November, we conducted Advanced Academics Collaboration and Instructional walks to observe the implementation of Cornell Notes at the middle schools. We collected artifacts from 77% (17/22) of the Pre-AP classrooms that showed evidence of the implementation of Cornell Notes. This is an increase from the September Advanced Academics Collaboration and Instructional Walks (50% implementation). Between August and October, 87% of all Pre-AP Teachers have attended at least one session.

Districtwide Parent Involvement Day and Keynote Speaker - On Friday, November 9th, Spring ISD held a joint parent involvement day and keynote speaker event. Approximately half of our schools held morning parent conferences and make-and-take sessions at their campuses and the other schools attended a motivational speaker session held at Fallbrook Church. In the afternoon, the schools did the opposite with their teams. During the parent involvement activities, parents were able to conference with teachers, learn tips on how to access the parent portal, create literacy and math tools to use with their students at home, check their students’ progress towards graduation, learn tools to address bullying and many other sessions relevant to parents’ meaningful engagement in the education of their children. Anthony Colannino, keynote speaker, engaged campus and central office employees in how to have a growth mindset as adults in order to empower our students to adopt a growth mindset as one of the tools we arm them with as we develop them as lifelong learners.

New Teacher Training - On Saturday, November 10th, Workforce Development Executive Director Marie Mendoza conducted a session for new teachers, entitled “Precise Praise and Grading Practices.” These sessions for new teachers are part of Spring ISD’s Equity Plan.

Get Better Faster Training for Principals and the Workforce Development Team - On Wednesday, November 14th, Darryl Williams, senior member of the TLAC team, provided a morning professional development session with Spring ISD school leaders. Matt Patiseau, Manager of Accountability and Related Services, presented the Board with the following update of Special Education:

In our continued effort to align our Strategic Priority to the ongoing work of the Special Education Charter, the special education leadership team met to develop a graphical representation of the key focus areas of support. Four primary support pillars were identified that visually capture the blueprint of the Strategic Priority and the Special Education Project Charter. The department believes that this graphic will help all stakeholders understand the broad spectrum of support that the special education department provides and connect department initiatives to the key pillars of support which are aligned to the Special Education Charter.

Teacher Development - Based on staff feedback, the Special Education Department developed a comprehensive professional learning plan for all stakeholders to address their unique individual needs. Filers were developed for each training series and compiled into a special education professional development catalog. During the month of November, trainings occurred for co-teach pairs, teachers, paraprofessionals, campus administrators, and parents. This summer, the Spring ISD Board approved a one-time expenditure to support our Special Education Strategic Priority. One critical initiative in this expenditure was to provide tablets to every Spring ISD special education teacher. The IOS platform was chosen due to the large selection of instructional apps available for students with special needs. The rollout of iPad trainings occurred throughout the month of November and equipped over 230 teachers with iPads. The tablets and knowledge gained from the training will provide opportunities for teachers to use iPads to increase instructional technology integration for students with special needs. In order to ensure 100% of special education teachers are trained, Special Education Coordinators are working with campus principals to secure training dates for campus-based sessions.

Progress Monitoring - Based on PBMAS indicators, individualized special education student data sheets were provided to each campus principal identifying students requiring targeted STAAR support. This will support the campus in strategically differentiating instruction in order to reach our academic achievement goals. Additionally, critical campuses were identified and a Critical Campus Support Plan was developed that incorporates prescribed supports through ongoing data analysis, campus instructional walks, and administrator collaboration.

Direct Student Support - The Spring ISD Every Child 2020 strategic plan identified that literacy is a cornerstone of education. In order to address the significant gap in writing skills for students receiving special education services, the team developed an Academic Supplemental Support Plan. The plan will focus on middle school interventions through rigorous writing lessons that are tied to students' interests and taught by high quality instructors.
